

Alyssa Nadolson

I'm a part of the class of 2013 at The Ohio State University. As of now I have not declared a major but I am on the pre-pharmacy track with an intended minor in Spanish. At school I play intramural volleyball and hopefully will be volunteering at a hospital soon. I also sing for the praise team at church and co lead a high school girls' Bible Study. When I have time I enjoy reading a good book (recently finished The Time Traveler's Wife) and watching Grey's Anatomy. And of course, I love going to Ohio State football games!
