

Liz Fernwalt

Liz has a strong passion for the trucking industry, which she credits to her dad who was a truck driver for over 44 years. Some people like to say that she loves the smell of diesel in the morning.

UTA Experience: After attending her first UTA Convention (almost 19 years ago) she told her owners, “I have found my truck family.”

With Liz’ 23+ years in the truck insurance arena she will add value to the board by providing a different perspective to the used truck industry. We all know the ups and downs of trucking. Liz feels her knowledge of used truck trends in the insurance world can be valuable in many different areas throughout the UTA.

Liz is the Manager of EPG’s largest truck account and has a great facility for interacting with the dealer base, learning more about their needs, and best practices. She can bring these best practices to the UTA by helping to enhance the Association’s current training programs.

Personal Background

Along with her strong faith and family ties in the Collierville (TN) community, Liz also enjoys spending time in the mountains of East Tennessee with her husband Alex and cheering on her 11-year-old son Caleb in football and basketball. She is involved in many school and community activities.

Liz has a special love for the truck world, the insurance industry, and especially her family.
