

"Lance is a wholesale fleet buyer and seller for Truck Central in Kansas City, MO. He works as a team with Kyle Toth and has the best partnership in the truck business!"

He has been in the used truck industry for two and a half years. He grew up around used trucks, but finally decided to get into the business in 2018.

The UTA has been a critical piece in getting him connected in the industry. He has made a lot of customers and even more friends in the business.

When Lance isn't at Truck Central, you'll catch him hacking around on the golf course, riding his bicycle aimlessly or watching the Chiefs game with his family."
